HONORS, APPOINTMENTS AND OTHER ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Barbara Barron, at the behest of ABA Rule of Law Initiative, created and taught two courses in Skopje, Macedonia on January 19, that were both funded by the State Department 's Bureau for International Narcotics Law Enforcement Affairs.

Herbie DiFonzo's book, Intimate Associations: The Law and Culture of American Families (with Ruth C. Stern) was highlighted by the Family Law Prof Blog in February. He has also been appointed a Hofstra University Law School Research Fellow for 2014-2015.

Eric M. Freedman was named by the University at Albany to the Advisory Board of the National Death Penalty Archive.

Monroe Freedman's article, In Praise of Overzealous Representation – Lying to Judges, Deceiving Third Parties, and Other Ethical Conduct, was reprinted and discussed at the ABA Section of Dispute Resolution Spring Conference in April. His book How Can You Represent Those People? was featured in December on Ralph Nader's "10 Books to Provoke Conversation in the New Year" list.

Linda Galler was featured as a tax expert consulted for Countdown to Tax Day: WalletHub's 2014 Expert Tips.

Scott Glick's article Virtual Checkpoints and Cyber-Terry Stops: Digital Scans to Protect the National's Critical Infrastructure and Key Resources was extensively discussed in Dr. Michele Louis Atkin's book, Balancing Liberty and Security: An Ethical Study of U.S. Foreign Intelligence Surveillance.

Julian Ku was elected to membership in the American Law Institute in January.

Stefan Krieger, and his Hofstra Law Reform Advocacy Clinic were featured in an Al Jazeera America report on February 8 for their precedent setting settlement of a nine year old anti-discrimination law suit secured on behalf of nine Latino residents of Farmingdale.

Irina Manta was awarded the Stessin Prize for her article Hedonic Trademarks. Her article Intellectual Property and the Presumption of Innocence was featured on CrimProf Blog, The Originalism Blog, Volokh Conspiracy Blog, and the Instapundit Blog. Professor Manta's article The Puzzle of Criminal Sanctions for Intellectual Property Infringement has been reprinted in Intellectual Property and Digital Content (Richard S. Gruner ed., 2013). Professor Manta's co-authored paper Judging Similarity (with Shyamkrishna Balganesh and Tess Wilkinson-Ryan) was highlighted as "highly recommended" by the Legal Theory Blog and was featured on Rebecca Tushnet's popular IP blog, 43(B)log. The piece was also selected to be presented at the American Law and Economics Association Annual Meeting at the University of Chicago Law School in May.

PRO BONO SERVICE

Robin Charlow worked with the North Shore School District Legislative Action Committee to secure the introduction in the New York State Senate and Assembly of proposed legislation allowing for some local control of public school policy on state-mandated testing.

J. Scott Colesanti served as attorney-advisor to the Half Hollow Hills West High School Mock Trial Team. The team won 6 rounds until losing the Suffolk County Championship to the eventual N.Y. State Champions.

Janet Dolgin directs the Gitenstein Institute for Health Law and Policy, which developed and offered a health fair for women in Nassau County in April. The free fair featured presentations by law students and medical doctors as well as medical screenings offered by clinicians, including nurses, and classes in healthy eating and exercise.

Eric M. Freedman took depositions, conducted a three-day evidentiary hearing, and filed motions and briefs in a federal habeas corpus action in the Northern District of Florida from December through April on behalf of a Death Row inmate. The claim being litigated was that the prisoner was mentally incompetent when tried on the charges in 1985. Professor Freedman also joined other scholars on an amicus brief in the New York Court of Appeals relating to the retroactivity rules applicable in state post-conviction proceedings, and one in the Supreme Court of the United States asking it to revisit its First Amendment standards for control of the broadcast media.

Mitchell Gans is a member of the NYS Bar Association Task Force on Income Taxation of Trusts and in that capacity he participated in drafting legislation recently signed by Governor Cuomo.

Daniel Greenwood contributed to and joined an amicus brief filed by a number of corporate law and criminal law scholars Sebelius v. Hobby Lobby Stores, Inc.

Theo Liebmann, and his Youth Advocacy Clinic successfully represented three minors from El Salvador who had been living in the United States and were at risk for deportation when the Second Department overturned an unfavorable lower family court decision.

Norman Silber is assisting the NYS Judiciary Committee in evaluating consumer issues.
