PUBLICATIONS

Baruch Bush published Transformative Mediation: A Sourcebook—Resources for Conflict Intervention Practitioners and Programs, with Joe Folger and Dorothy Della Noce. In addition, his book The Promise of Mediation: The Transformative Approach to Conflict (also with Joe Folger) was newly translated into Swedish and Slovenian.

Monroe Freedman published the fourth edition of Understanding Lawyers’ Ethics. Professor Freedman also approved the publication in Chinese of his article, Our Constitutional Adversary System.

Joanna L. Grossman published columns in FindLaw’s Writ: No Gay Divorcees in Texas (Sept. 13, 2010); “The Kids are Alright”: Family Life and Family Law on the Big Screen (Sept. 14, 2010) (with Lawrence M. Friedman); “Sister Wives”: Will Reality Show Stars Face Prosecution for Polygamy in Utah? (with Lawrence M. Friedman); “Will Gays and Lesbians in Florida Finally Gain the Right to Adopt Children?” (Oct. 26, 2010); In United States v. Flores-Villar, the Supreme Court will Hear Argument on the Citizenship Rights of Non-Marital Children (Nov. 8 & 9, 2010).

Fred Klein (visiting) published A View from Inside the Ropes: A Prosecutor’s Viewpoint on Disclosing Exculpatory Evidence, 38 Hofstra L. Rev. 867 (2010).

Andrew Schepard published Regulating Collaborative Law, 17 No. 1 Disp. Resol. Mag. 26 (2010), and Collaborative Law and the Uniform Collaborative Law Act, 3 N.Y. Dis. Res. L. 26 (Fall 2010).

COMMENTARY

Daniel’s Greenwood’s “Handouts and Hoarding” was featured in Dissent Magazine on October 20. Also, his “Prosperity Comes from Justice, Not Austerity,” was featured in Dissent Magazine on October 21.

PRESENTATIONS

Baruch Bush was a plenary panelist at the Association for Conflict Resolution National Conference, on “Transformative Mediation: Two Decades of Practice and Research,” on September 2.

Nora Demleitner spoke at Loyola University New Orleans where the Law School and the Journal of Public Interest Law presented a symposium on “Federalism at Work: State Criminal Law, Immigrants, and Immigration-Related Activity” on November 5th.
Akilah Folami presented her article titled, “Freeing the Press from Editorial Discretion and Cultural Hegemony in Bona Fide News,” at the Third National People of Color conference hosted by Seton Hall Law School.

Eric Freedman spoke at the New York City Bar Association’s Committee on Capital Punishments “Annual Corpus Training for Capital Post-Conviction Attorneys” on October 14th. Also, Professor Freedman was a keynote speaker at the launch of the Justice Elwin L. Page Volunteer Program on October 20th.

Professor Freedman spoke at the Seton Hall Law Review’s annual conference, titled “National Security Policy and the Role of Lawyering: Guantanamo and Beyond” on October 28th. He also spoke at a University of Maryland conference entitled “Re-imagining International Clinical Law” on November 18.

Monroe Freedman addressed the plenary session of a three-day national conference on Ethics in Judging in Ottawa, Canada on October 21st. The session consisted of distinguished Canadian judges, lawyers, and law professors.

Leon Friedman participated in a PLI program on the latest term of the Supreme Court (2009-2010), speaking about First Amendment cases and Section 1983 cases on August 3. In addition, he participated in a program at Hofstra on Birth Right Citizenship on Bill of Rights day on September 15, participated in a Hofstra program on the Google Book settlement and the copyright problems connected with the settlement on October 22, and participated in a PLI program on Section 1983 and civil rights litigation on October 28. He also participated in a Program on “Actual Innocence” at the New York Law School on November 5. Later that same day, he participated in a program at Touro Law School on the business decisions in the 2009-10 Supreme Court Term.

Linda Galler was a featured speaker at the ABA Section of Taxation and Section of Real Property, Trust & Estate Law 2010 Joint Fall Meeting in Toronto, Ontario on September 24th.

Mitchell Gans spoke at the Notre Dame Tax Institute on the tax consequences of a sale of life insurance policies on October 28, and also gave a presentation at the ACTEC Circular 230 Task Force on proposed regulations under section 10.34 of the Circular 230 in October. He also gave a presentation at the law school for Rivkin Radler on fiduciary-duty issues in September.

Daniel Greenwood spoke at the Wharton School on October 1st, in a conference on the Citizens United decision. He also co-taught a session on corporate speech at a seminar held at Boston College Law School on October 27th.

Joanna Grossman presented “Are Transsexuals Paving the Way for Gender Equality,” at the Northeast Law & Society Meeting in Amherst, Massachusetts on October 2.

Susan Joffe presented at a panel on “Unemployment and the Safety Net” on October 21st at Hofstra University, in conjunction with the Hofstra Labor Studies Program. She spoke about current issues relating to the contingent workforce and obstacles facing jobless Americans seeking unemployment benefits.

Julian Ku moderated a panel on “The Responsibility to Protect and Sovereign Dignity” at the American Branch of the International Law Association, International Law Weekend, on October 10. He also presented his paper, "The Limits of Corporate Rights Under International Law" at the biennial meeting of the American Society of International Law's International Economic Law Interest Group at the University of Minnesota School of Law on November 4.

Alan Resnick delivered the Keynote Address at the 33rd Annual North Carolina Bankruptcy Institute, sponsored by the North Carolina Bar Association, on November 19th. He also made presentations on “The Formulation and Confirmation of a Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization” and on "Disclosure Requirements in Chapter 11 Cases" at the New York University Annual Workshop on Bankruptcy and Business Reorganizations, on September 22 and 23.

James Sample spoke on September 30th at the National Press Club in Washington, D.C. The discussion explored how special-interest money exploded in state court races in the last decade, thereby posing an unprecedented threat to the fairness, impartiality and independence of America’s courts. In addition, Professor Sample served as a keynote speaker at the “Selecting Montana’s Judges: Protecting Impartiality, Ensuring Accountability, and Preserving Public Trust” event on November 16th and debated as part of the plenary session of the Annual Wisconsin Supreme Court Conference on December 3rd. Professor Sample also presented his forthcoming paper, tentatively entitled, Differences, Distinctions, and Elected Judges: A Developing Federal-State Dialogue at University Chicago Law School.

Andrew Schepard participated in a panel presentation on October 29th for a Town Hall forum on the ethical issues involved in lawyers hiring a mental health consultant to prepare parents for child custody evaluations and to critique the reports of mental health professions. In addition, Professor Schepard participated in the annual meeting of the American Bar Association’s Commission on Youth at Risk on November 11th.

Lea Shaver participated in “Innovate/Activate: An Unconference on Intellectual Property and Activism” at New York Law School on September 24. Professor Shaver was one of several academics featured in the keynote portion of the program. During her remarks, Professor Shaver addressed the “Access to Knowledge” social movement, as well as her research around intellectual property and social justice. She also moderated the first panel of the conference, titled “Replicate/Recreate.”

Norman Silber presented his book A Corporate Form of Freedom and his views regarding the revision of the New York Not-for-Profit Corporations Law at a meeting of the New York County Lawyers Association Committee on Nonprofit Law, September 22nd. Professor Silber also presented two papers at the meeting of ARNOVA on November 18th.

Barbara Stark presented her chapter in the new book, INTERNATIONAL LAW FOR FEDERAL JUDGES, to the American Society of International Law, on November 12th.

Rose Villazor presented "The Other Loving: Uncovering the Federal Regulation of Interracial Marriages," at a Willamette Law School Faculty Workshop on October 4, and at the University of South Carolina Race and the Family Conference, on October 15.

Vern Walker presented “Public Health and the Rule of Law at Hofstra” at the conference Public Health Challenges and Achievements: 1935-2010, held at Hofstra University on November 4th and 5th. The conference was sponsored by the Hofstra University School of Education, Health and Human Services, in cooperation with the Hofstra University School of Law and the Hofstra North Shore-LIJ School of Medicine at Hofstra University. He also made a presentation describing the work of Hofstra Law School’s Research Laboratory for Law, Logic and Technology at Hofstra Law School’s Donor Appreciation and Scholarship Dinner, held on November 11th.

QUOTED IN

BROADCAST APPEARANCES

Eric Lane was interviewed by New York 1 News regarding the NYS Lieutenant Governor’s role as tie-breaker in the State Senate on November 3rd.

CITATIONS

Nora Demleitner: 85 N.Y.U. L. Rev. 1661, 52 Wm. & Mary L. Rev. 465, 110 Colum. L. Rev. 1526, 52 Wm. & Mary L. Rev. 1.

Janet Dolgin: 45 Wake Forest L. Rev. 1469, 45 Wake Forest L. Rev. 1489, 17 Cardozo J.L. & Gender 197.

Grant Hayden: 95 Minn. L. Rev. 9, 42 Ariz. St. L.J. 717.

389, 7 J. Ass’n Legal Writing Directors 87, 7 J. Ass’n Legal Writing Directors 229, 113 W. Va. L. Rev. 67.

James Sample: 124 Harv. L. Rev. 118.

Roy Simon: 17 Clinical L. Rev. 21, 60 Syracuse L. Rev. 1061, 45 Wake Forest L. Rev. 1287.

Barbara Stark: 58 Am. J. Comp. L. 753, 73 Alb. L. Rev. 1459.

Vern Walker: 20 Health Matrix 55, 40 Seton Hall L. Rev. 1581.

HONORS, APPOINTMENTS, AND OTHER ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Barbara Barron spent October 12-14 in Kosovo where she taught in a special skills training program sponsored by the United States Department of State and the Kosovo Judicial Institute.

Nora Demleitner was elected as a member of the American Law Institute.

John DeWitt Gregory recently became a member of the National Interdisciplinary Colloquium on Child Custody Law (NICCCL).

Joanna Grossman served as a guest blogger for SALTLaW, the blog for the Society of American Law Teachers, a Community of Progressive Law Teachers Working for Justice, Diversity and Academic Excellence, in October.

Stefan Krieger was acknowledged by the leader of the tenants advocacy group, NY Tenants & Neighbors, in the Great Neck Record, on November 25. Discussing the recent decision of the Nassau County Rent Guidelines Board adopting the lowest rent adjustments in its 36-year history, the leader stated that this victory was made possible in large part by “Professor Stefan Krieger of Hofstra Law School and a team of talented law students who for ‘over the last seven years have done extraordinary legal work.’”

Katrina Kuh’s paper, “Capturing Individual Harms,” was selected through a blind, peer reviewed process for presentation during the panel “New Voices on Cutting Edge Issues in Natural Resources and Environmental Law” at the Natural Resources Law session during the AALS Annual Meeting.

Ashira Ostrow was one of two winners of the annual Association of American Law School’s Scholarly Papers Competition with her article titled “Process Preemption in Federal Siting Regimes,” forthcoming in the Harvard Journal on Legislation.

Andrew Schepard participated as part of a multi disciplinary evaluation team organized by the Association of Family and Conciliation Courts which completed a report assessing Marion County (Indianapolis), Indiana’s Family Court Services and making recommendations to the court administration after several days of interviews and data collection.

Vern Walker wrote an article to appear in the Fall 2010 Issue of the magazine Hofstra Horizons, describing the work of Hofstra Law School’s Research Laboratory for Law, Logic and Technology (LLT Lab). In the article he explained that the LLT Lab conducts empirical research on the reasoning in legal decisions – particularly the reasoning that connects the evidence in the case to the findings of fact (usually called “fact finding”). He also joined the Advisory Board for the European Journal of Risk Regulation (EJRR), published by Lexxion Verlagsgesellschaft mbH in Berlin. EJRR provides a forum for informed discussion on how risks to individuals’ health and safety are regulated across policy domains in Europe.