PUBLICATIONS

Ronald Colombo, Trust and the Reform of Securities Regulation, 35 DEL. J. CORP. L. 829; The Role of Trust in Financial Regulation, 55 VILL. L. REV. 577.

Elizabeth Glazer, Naming’s Necessity, 19 LAW & SEXUALITY 166.

Andrew Schepard, Family Law Education Project Seeks Law School Curricular Reform, 44 FAM. CT. REV. 513.

COMMENTARY

Eric Freedman’s Letter to the Editor, Is Obama’s Plan for Guantánamo Safe and Just?, was featured in the New York Times on December 29.

Leon Friedman’s “Time for a Wealth Tax” was published in The Nation on December 13.

Daniel’s Greenwood’s “Fix the Dams!” was featured in Dissent Magazine on February 23. As well, his “Misreading the Commerce Clause” was featured in Dissent Magazine on February 4. Further, his “The General Welfare” was featured in Dissent Magazine on February 1.

Andrew Schepard’s “Raising New York's Age of Criminal Responsibility for Juveniles” was featured in the New York Law Journal on January 28.

PRESENTATIONS

Jamie Abrams presented her paper "Examining Entrenched Masculinities in the Republican Government Tradition" at the Multidimensional Masculinities Colloquium on February 18, 2011 at the UNLV Boyd School of Law in Las Vegas. She presented her paper “From ‘Barbarity’ to Regularity: A Case Study on the Medicalization of Childbirth” at the Northeast Regional Junior Faculty Workshop on February 5, 2011 at Albany Law School. She also presented on innovations in teaching legal research at the Rocky Mountain Legal Writing Conference at the UNLV Boyd School of Law in Las Vegas on March 26, 2011.

Miriam Albert and Jennifer Gundlach presented “Bridging the Gap: Integrating Ethical Issues and Skills Training Into Traditional Doctrinal Contracts Teaching" at the Sixth Annual Conference on Contracts on February 19 at Stetson University College of Law.

Barbara Barron conducted a trial advocacy program for the American Bar Association Rule of Law Initiative's Central Asian human rights lawyers in Almaty, Kazakhstan, on December 8-11.

Alafair Burke delivered a lecture at the U.S. Attorney's Office in D.C. about prosecutors' obligations to disclose exculpatory evidence to the defense on February 10.

Baruch Bush hosted a meeting of ethno-political conflict specialists at Hofstra on February 16 and 17, which included panel to the faculty and student body on the subject “Mediating Ethno-Political Conflicts,” featuring expert mediators Erik Cleven and Vesna Matovic.

Nora V. Demleitner provided legal commentary at Hofstra's presentation of Ayn Rand's play "Night of January 16," on January 16.

Monroe Freedman moderated a panel of the NYSBA on "Ethical Considerations in the Practice of Animal Rights Law" on January 26.

Mitchell Gans circulated a paper entitled “Supercharged Credit Shelter Trust: A Super Idea for Married Couples Especially in Light of the 2010 Tax Act” at the University of Miami Institute on Estate Planning in January 2010, and gave a talk entitled “The Role of the Trust Protector” at the annual meeting of the New York State Bar Association.

Elizabeth Glazer participated on the panel “Law Professors, Storytelling, and the Academy” at AALS on January 8. She also presented at the SALT Law Conference at the University of Hawaii on December 10 on the integration of doctrine and skills in the law classroom.

Daniel Greenwood participated on the “Corporate Political Speech and the Dueling Conceptions of the Corporation in Supreme Court Jurisprudence” panel at AALS on January 6.

Susan Joffe presented on a panel at the Legal Writing Institute Training Workshop for Legal Writing Professors on December 3 at St. John’s University.

Julian Ku discussed the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit's decision in Kiobel v. Royal Dutch Petroleum at a meeting of the New York City Bar Association's Section on International Law on December 1.

Katy Kuh presented at the “New Voices on Cutting Edge Issues in Natural Resources and Environmental Law” panel at AALS on January 7.

Theo Liebmann delivered a guest lecture at the City College of New York Forensic Psychology Program on substantive and procedural issues in presenting expert testimony on December 9. The audience was composed of psychology professors and graduate students.

Richard Neumann participated on the panel “Can There Be Full Academic Freedom Without..."
Tenure?” at AALS on January 6.

Ashira Ostrow, as the co-winner of the AALS Scholarly Paper Competition, presented her paper “Process Preemption in Federal Siting Regimes” at AALS on January 7.

James Sample spoke at the University of San Francisco Law School as part of their symposium “Democracy, Inc? Citizens United, Corporate Expenditures & the Future of Campaign Finance Law” on February 25.

Andrew Schepard spoke at the 2011 Gilvary Symposium on Law, Religion and Social Justice at the University of Dayton Law School on January 21.

Norman Silber co-hosted a panel discussion titled "Media Portrayals of the Non-Profit World" at Yale Law School on February 23.

Amy Stein presented a CLE program at the Nassau County Bar Association in February. The program, entitled "Legal Writing Check-Up: A Writing Workshop," provided participants with useful tips for drafting, editing and revising their written work product. She gave a presentation entitled “Extra, Extra, Teach All About it,” at the Capital Area Legal Writing Conference, held at George Washington Law School on February 25th and 26th. The conference included speakers from more than 25 law schools in 20 different states. Professor Stein’s talk focused on how to integrate law-related current events in to the legal writing classroom. She also gave a presentation on effective student conferences at the Legal Writing Institute Training Workshop for New Legal Writing Professors on December 3 at St. John’s University.

Vern Walker gave a presentation at the Second International Conference on Quantitative Aspects of Justice and Fairness, in Fiesole, near Florence, Italy, in February. The conference was hosted by the European University Institute. Professor Walker’s presentation was entitled “Empirically Quantifying Evidence Assessment in Legal Decisions.”

QUOTED IN

Fred Klein was quoted in Newsday about the problems in the Nassau County Police Forensics Lab on December 16.

BROADCAST APPEARANCES

J. Herbie DiFonzo discussed the legitimization of marijuana and California's Proposition 19 with WRHU reporter, Jarrett Piette, which aired on December 10.

Monroe Freedman discussed prosecutorial misconduct on NPR on December 9.

Fred Klein was interviewed by News 12 on the four bodies found at Oak Beach on December 15.

James Sample appeared on “Health Care Rulings Reignite Judicial Bias Debate” on NPR on December 16.

CITATIONS

Akilah Folami: 50 SANTA CLARA L. REV. 515.

St. J. on Disp. Resol. 299, 10 Wyo. L. Rev. 415.

Linda Galler: 10 Fla. Tax Rev. 841, 54 N.Y.L. Sch. L. Rev. 495.

Ashira Ostrow: 60 J. Legal Educ. 519, 41 Seton Hall L. Rev. 465.

HONORS, APPOINTMENTS, PRO BONO ACTIVITIES, AND OTHER ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Bennett Capers was elected Chair-Elect of AALS’s Criminal Justice Section at this year’s AALS Annual Meeting. He was also elected Chair-Elect of AALS’s Law and Humanities Section.

J. Scott Colesanti’s Business Law Prof Blog, which he co-edits, was named by Lexis Nexis as one of the Top 25 Business Law Blogs of 2010. Professor Colesanti was also invited to judge the semi-final round of the 36th Annual Kaufman Competition. In addition, he has been serving as Attorney-Advisor to the Roslyn High School Mock Trial team. The team won four matches before losing in the quarterfinals of the 2011 Statewide High School Mock Trial Tournament.

Ron Colombo’s article, “Cooperation With Securities Fraud,” which appeared in a 2010 volume of the Alabama Law Review, has been selected for republication in the “Securities Law Review 2011.”

Nora V. Demleitner is chairing a newly created subcommittee of the ABA Corrections Committee. The project involves the drafting of ABA resolutions on the voting rights of convicted offenders and on prisoners’ residency, as connected to questions of political representation and funding.

Jeffery Dodge was selected to represent Hofstra Law School at the upcoming Education Mission to Indonesia and Vietnam from April 3 to April 8.

Akilah Folami’s article “Deliberative Democracy on Air: Reinvigorate Localism--Resuscitate Radio's Subversive Past” was selected as one of the winners of the South Eastern Association of Law Schools Call for Papers.

Frank Gulino graded written memorials and judged two rounds of oral argument, including the quarterfinal round, in the Mid-Atlantic Super Regional Round of the Philip C. Jessup International Law Moot Court Competition, held at GW Law School, on February 19.

Ashira Ostrow was selected co-winner of this year’s AALS Scholar Paper Competition for her paper “Process Preemption in Federal Siting Regimes.”

Norman I. Silber was elected President of the Section on Nonprofit Law and Philanthropy at the 2011 Annual Conference of the American Association of Law Schools.

Amy Stein served as a brief judge in the National Moot Court Competition in Child Welfare and Adoption Law. Students participating in the competition argue current critical issues concerning child welfare and adoption law before a state supreme court.

Rose Villazor was selected as the 2011 recipient... of the Derrick A. Bell, Jr. Award by the American Association of Law Schools Section on Minority Groups.

Vern Walker became the first Director of Hofstra Law School’s newly founded Research Laboratory for Law, Logic and Technology.