PRO BONO SERVICE

Monroe Freedman continued his work on death penalty and Guantanamo cases and his service on a national committee on indigent criminal defense.

Leon Friedman has worked on a wide variety of pro bono cases during the past year, including: Clark v. Perez, 510 F.3d 382 (2d Cir. 2008) (habeas corpus action for defendant whose trial occurred with no one in the courtroom to protect her interests while the prosecution put on its case); American Academy of Religion v. Chertoff, 2007 WL 4527504 (S.D.N.Y. December 20, 2007) (suit against administration's immigration policy which barred Islamic scholar from coming to the United States for tenured position at Notre Dame); Hicks v. Bush, 2007 WL 902303 (D.D.C. 2007) (representing David Hicks, an Australian imprisoned at Guantanamo in a suit against the military commissions); Turner v. State, 14 Misc.3d 699, 825 N.Y.S.2d 904 (Ct. of Claims, 2006) (suit under New York unlawful imprisonment statute on behalf of prisoner); Turner v. Schriver, 327 F. Supp.2d 174 (E.D.N.Y. 2004); Lochren v. County of Suffolk, 01-3925 (E.D.N.Y. 3925)(Title VII suit against Suffolk County because they forced all pregnant police officers to take unpaid leave).

Andrew Schepard served as a member of the American Bar Association Youth at Risk Commission, which focuses on improving the way the legal system responds to the needs of youth at risk.

Robert Thaler wrote a pro bono appellate brief in Hauzinger v. Hauzinger, 43 A.D.3d 1289 (4th Dept. 2007), a case addressing mediator privilege and confidentiality.

HONORS, APPOINTMENTS, AND OTHER ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Barbara Barron was hired by the government of Bosnia-Herzegovia to conduct an advocacy training program for defense attorneys in their pending War Crimes Tribunal cases. She was also engaged by the Japanese Federation of Bar Associations to participate in their first nationwide trial advocacy training program, which was featured on Japan's national network news.

Akilah Folami filed a co-authored comment on In the Matter of: 2006 Quadrennial Review, MB Dockets No. 06-11, 02, 277, 01-235, 0-317, 00-244), a study commissioned by the FCC on Minority and Female Ownership in Media Enterprises.

Monroe Freedman is teaching Lawyer's Ethics as a Visiting Professor at Georgetown University Law Center this spring.

Mitchell Gans worked with the ABA, the New York City Bar Association, the New York State Bar Association and ACTEC in connection with two projects involving IRS rule-making. He separately prepared an analysis for the IRS, which the ABA report utilized and cited in the report it submitted to the IRS.

Emanuel Halper, as chair of the Community Outreach Standing Committee of the ABA Real Property Trusts and Estates Section, organized multiple continuing legal education courses.

Andrew Schepard received the 2008 Person of the Year Award from the New York Chapter of the Association of Family and Conciliation Courts "For a Life Dedicated to Children, Families and the Law," presented in December. He also organized and moderated conference on Youth at Risk sponsored by the Center for Children, Families and the Law and the American Bar Association's Youth at Risk Commission, held at Hofstra Law School on November 2.

Amy Stein has been appointed to a two-year term on the Adjunct Faculty Committee of the American Bar Association.
