Advanced Tort Practice & Problems
Professor McGrath

Dear Class:

I know you are all excited about the start of school and especially the start of the greatest class in law school--Advanced Torts. It is true that we have a terrific Advanced Torts case this semester and you will learn how to handle a civil case from the time a client walks into your office until trial. You will start the class as law students and end the class as lawyers who could handle any civil case. The problem is that our first day of class is 8/22/13 and I need to cancel that class. My youngest daughter is in College and 8/22/13 is her move in day and I need to be there. Accordingly, our first class will be on 8/29/13. I am so sorry because I do not like to cancel class and I really do like to delay the start of the greatest class at Hofstra Law School. I look forward to seeing you on the 29th at 5pm.

Christopher T. McGrath, Esq.
