Welcome to Legal Methods!

Hi Everyone,

My name is (Prof.) Juli Campagna.

You are welcome to call me “Prof. C.” or “Prof. Campagna”.

Many of you are from other countries – so a special welcome to our class, our school, and our country. Also, as a tip, do not call professors here “Miss” / “Ms.” / “Mr.” That is correct in many countries. That is incorrect here. I teach all over the world, so it doesn’t bother me. Many of my colleagues are not used to it, however, and may take offense. Address them as Prof. or Professor. Capitalize the “P”.

Our class meets on Tuesdays, from 2:10 till 4:00 p.m. in Roosevelt Hall 010.

- Roosevelt Hall is in a different building from the main law school building.
- It is between the main law school building and the Au Bon Pain.
- Room 010 is downstairs. Just take the (only) staircase down. Turn immediately to your right, and there is 010. It sounds more difficult than it actually is.

There is no pre-assignment for our first class.

There are a couple of important instructions, nonetheless, for the first class:

- Please bring your laptop.
- If you do not have a laptop, please bring one or more pens or pencils to class.
- Please come on time.
- International students are welcome to bring bilingual dictionaries.
- Please sign up for our course TWEN page. I will send the syllabus from there and will also post it there.

I look forward to meeting all of you during our first class on Tuesday, January 17, at 2:10 p.m.

If you have any questions or concerns, feel free to send me an e-mail at:

All the best,

Prof. C.
