First Assignment

Evidence – Section A
Professor Eric M. Freedman

1. Sign up for this course on TWEN as soon as possible. You will find the syllabus there. In the event of any difficulties contact Professor Freedman’s assistant, Joyce Amore Cox, 463 6339, Joyce.A.Cox@hofstra.edu, who sits at the back of Room 216.

2. At your earliest convenience review the first installment of the syllabus with care.

Note that a significant portion of your grade will depend on in-class performances, and that you will need to anticipate being called upon regularly, perhaps as soon as the end of the first week of class. If you are not comfortable with these requirements, you may want to consider adjusting your schedule sooner rather than later.

3. Prepare Unit I prior to our first class meeting at 2:10 p.m. on Monday, August 20.

You will find it helpful during that class to have a copy of the syllabus conveniently accessible.
